NZ (FOSSIL FOOL?) LETS THE WORLD DOWN AT CLIMATE CONFERENCE IN BONN*

Geoff Keey of Greenpeace has just returned from the climate conference in Bonn where the NZ government, embarassingly but deservedly, was awarded the Fossil of the Day award for its refusal to set targets for reducing greenhouse emissions.

HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

Tues @ noon – this is only on for 5 wks.

This is an interesting interview that took place at Wellington Access Radio with a mediator from the Human Rights Commission based in Wellington. They spoke about what the commission does, what discrimination is and what the commission can do to help people who've been discriminated against. Really interesting and worth tuning in to.

WOMEN ON AIR

Sat 10-12noon

This Saturday on WOA, they talk with Dame Fiona Kidman, writer & political activist, about the second volume of her life since 1980 - "Beside The Dark Pool". Historian, Dr Dorothy Page, from Otago University, discusses the early women who graduated from the Otago Medical School at the end of the 19th century - fascinating stories. Destitute Gourmet, Sophie Gray, has some practical advice on how to live well, spend less and Wendy Nissen has more ideas for a domestic goddess on a budget - how to save money & time and still be gorgeous!! Shona Laing, playing at the Harbourlight next week, chats and plays some of her music.
